LIVING

THE AVJENNINGS WAY

Sir Albert Victor Jennings was a pioneer, an innovator and a dreamer. The original homebuilder and developer created history in the 1930s by providing quality living that was affordable for all.

Since then, AVJennings has been part of the Australian landscape for 75 years.

From hospitals to universities, schools, shopping centres and sports centres, to hotels and casinos, few Australians would have remained untouched by the influence of AVJennings.

And today, as Australian needs continue to change, AVJennings strives to create affordable living for all and to keep the Great Australian Dream alive.

WHAT WE DO WELL

Right from the beginning, AVJennings has understood the different ways in which Australians want to live. That's why we provide a greater range of living choices than any other property developer and homebuilder in Australia. Maybe it's land, with your choice of builder, or contemporary apartments in top locations. Perhaps it's a new home in a carefully planned neighbourhood, or an AVJennings home design to build on your land. Whatever you choose, our experience in development and home building means we provide quality living solutions to suit all your needs. For today and tomorrow.
